Innovation Ecosystem

Bhagwantrao Shivaji Patil Mahavidyalaya, Paratwada regarded innovation as an instrument of necessary and positive change. The innovation and knowledge sharing have been together with academic literature. Each programme has contributed a sustainable design to the innovation like e-books and e-journals in the library.

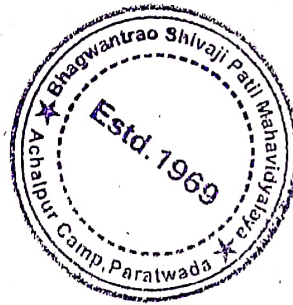

It is a systematic review that covers the transfer of knowledge by sharing youtube links and weblinks. The college has ICT enabled classrooms and the motive behind it is to facilitate innovation and invention that will benefit society at large.

The college has been working on various initiatives and one such is the research committee to give teachers and students a good platform to innovate. The college has made provision for the creation of knowledge by signing MOUs with the institutions.

We provide technology applications and solid theoretical foundation for systematic research. The COVID-19 has changed the scenario and the college has motivated faculty members and students to get success in the dark period.
